

FORTUNE

DEPARTMENTS

8

22

24

MACRO

6 Closer Look

The European honeymoon is over: EU regulators are escalating their battle against American business.

BY VIVIANNE WALT

10 Power to the People

This Election Day, some states are putting key policy decisions directly in voters' hands.

BY TORY NEWMYER

12 Mouthwatering Returns

Aggressive investors are increasingly going after food-chain loggards.

BY JOHN KELL

13 I Know What You Watched Last Summer

In an otherwise humdrum season, scary movies had a strong showing.

BY MICHAL LEV-RAM

14 Calm and Carrying On

The Brexit crisis that wasn't.

BY GEOFFREY SMITH

PASSIONS &amp; PERKS

16 A Visit to the Homeland

Infiniti chief designer Alfonso Albaisa goes to Cuba, his parents' birthplace, and finds inspiration.

BY SUE CALLAWAY

18 Black Book

An insider's guide to Mumbai, India's bustling metropolis.

BY ADAM ERACE

TECH

20 Business in the Cloud

California utility PG&E thinks virtual-reality technology may make inspecting equipment faster and safer.

BY JONATHAN VANIAN

23 A Boom With a View

Google's parent company loved sci-fi research, until it didn't.

BY ERIN GRIFFITH

INVEST

24 Stocks and the Art Market

Why investors are rooting for a rebound for art sales and one of the top auctioneers.

BY MICHELLE CELARIER

60 BING!

CORRECTION
In "A Drone for Every Job Site" (Sept. 15, 2016), we misstated the value of the global construction industry. It is $8.5 trillion. Fortune regrets the error.

INTI INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITY
TSAM LIBRARY

Date received : 30/9/2016

Publisher : TRANSPORTA