This project’s main objective is to design an animation based on the currently one of the most famous cartoon ‘The Simpsons’. It is about the love story of two 10 years old kids: Bart Simpson and Julia Burns. The author models the background in 3D and draws the characters in 2D. To research the procedures of animation production, the author studies on various multimedia tools which are applied in today’s animation and movie industries. During the design process, the author must challenge on many areas such as: modeling large amount of 3D scenes, the interaction between 2D characters with 3D backgrounds, applying American slangs in to the texture design, telling a romantic and funny story under limited time and at the same time must keep the origin tastes of ‘The Simpsons’.
