A Study on E-community and Implementation of Social Networking Website for INTI International University College

Prepared by: Xu Xiao Feng

ABSTRACT

This project was undertaken to study on E-community and implementation of social networking website for INTI International University College. The project was focused on E-community concepts applied and was designed to assist students and staffs have a platform that can simplify keep contact, e-community with each other's no matter where they are, they from. Along with the process of this project, the tasks have been divided into objectives, and documented into chapters which are four major stages namely Background study, system design, implementation and evaluation.