

STUDY ON DATA MART DATABASE SYSTEM IN FOOD CATERING COMPANY

Prepared by: Loo Beng Ying

ABSTRACT

This project is written primarily for those who want to know about the data mart for the first time. Besides the concept of data mart, it also consists of the features, limitation and the tools and technique that relate to it. This project's application is to introduce a database system based on data mart technology, which is help manager to pull data down from an operational database system to search for their desired data, and help them to make decision based on the getting result.