

ABSTRACT

In this project report entitled Obstacle Sensor With Automatic Vehicles, will show all about the project's information and how it function to help us in our life. It consists of 9 chapters to enable the reader to understand this project clearly. Chapter 1 is about the introduction of this project and to emphasize the project objective and project outlook. While chapter 2 is the theories discover by writer during the process and use in the project. Chapter 3 is referring to the system specification which will describe the whole system in detail. Chapter 4 is the discussion of the problem and the method applied by writer to solve problem. Finally, Chapter 5 is the project conclusion and further development of the project.