

DESIGN A SINGLE – STOREY BUNGALOW

Prepared by: Ho Yiew Shyen

ABSTRACT

I'm designing a single-storey bungalow, which is consisting of three bedrooms, two bath rooms, living room, dining room and car porch.

On this page, I will explain briefly the procedure taken to design a bungalow. Firstly, I started to prepare an architecture plan and R.C plan. The R.C plan is important to let us putting a beams and column. By a well prepared of the plans can gives a very good arrangement of design structure due to saving a lot of works and time.

Then I started to design a slab, beam, column and lastly the foundation design. These are the main task of designing the elements.

By completed a design work following well planning procedures, then the project can be done successfully.
