

METHODS OF TUNNELING

Prepared by: Teo Soon Guan

ABSTRACT

The purpose of my project, Methods of Tunneling, is to learn about types of tunnels and its application, and the criteria of the methods used in different soil condition. Also the material and ground support of the methods used.

The project is also based upon the research of the reference books from library, Internet and also opinion from the professional in relevant field.

The project also indicates the special condition of the procedures.
