

A STUDY ON NONDESTRUCTIVE TESTING TECHNIQUES

Prepared by: Foo Kok Hong

ABSTRACT

This report is based on the knowledge of the non-destructive testing techniques. In some circumstances, the non-destructive testing is necessary to carry out due to the adversity of the existing building for its intended performance.

This report also touches on the application of the non-destructive testing, its advantages, limitations and some of the defects that will be encountered in the materials and structure.