BAR CODE SECURITY SYSTEM

Prepared by: Shum Wai Foong

ABSTRACT

This is actually a security system based on the bar code language and some basic electronic components, which can apply to some high level security places or guardhouse of some building.

Here, I will include the operation of the hardware and software which each of them is included with Block Diagram and Flow Chart. After this, the Planning section that I have out is about the schedule of this project that I have followed through for these few weeks.

Finally, I have included my conclusion of the project and reference that I have gone through with. All the data sheets of each component are enclosed at the end of the report.
