ABSTRACT

Now, a lot of people like to go fishing while they need some relax time. So, fishing has been a very popular relaxation game in this modern world. However, fishing is a game that need a lot of time. Also, sometimes we can't get any achievement. As the name, my project entitled 'Fishbiter' is purposely design for fishing. With this strange product, we can know what was actually going on under the depth. As the line being tugged, it will send vibrations along its length, and then we can simply strike up the rod. Then, this is the principal I adopted behind the project: hearing tiny vibrations carried along the line.
