

DESIGN A MANUALLY POWERED FAN

Prepared by: Lai Kian Wah

ABSTRACT

The purpose of this project is to provide information on procedures and methods to design an ergonomically designed manually powered fan.

The project also mentioned the theories, objectives and approaches used in generating the result of the project.

The project involves the mechanical engineering design. Mechanical design means the design of things and systems of mechanical nature – machines, products, structures, devices and instruments.