

MULTIPURPOSE STUDY DESK DESIGN WITH ERGONOMIC FACTOR

Prepared by: Yong Chee Choong

ABSTRACT

This project basically consists of information on the existing study desk as compared to my new and improved ergonomically designed study desk. The existing study desks are described in terms of its design, shape, size, color, material and function.

Finally, this project will introduce an entire new system and improved existing features as well as the reasons of implementation. This new ergonomically designed multipurpose study desk will be user friendly because it caters the need of the users and provides them with ease and convenience.
