

HOVERCRAFT

Prepared by: Tan Hock Hooi

ABSTRACT

This project describes in detail about the objectives, organization and management, and assessment methods used for Mechanical Engineering project in Hovercraft Design. In the first part of the project, it concerns about the theory and the technical application of the air cushion. The followed by a more detailed of the design activities, usage of Computer Aided Design and the problems which will be facing before and during the project.