

Inti students' success story at Coventry

Sunday Star
STUDENTS from Inti College have proven to be a real success at Coventry University.

Completing their final year of a 2+1 bachelor's degree in Business Administration, some of them have awards to show for their performance there.

Among the achievers were Brigitte Cheong Choi Har, who won a special prize for her project on the business strategy of a local tyre company, and Lim Su San, who graduated with first class honours.

"I really enjoyed being at Coventry. It was very rewarding and a good foundation for me to embark on postgraduate studies if I want to," said Cheong.

Academic tutor at Coventry, Tony Skipper, said he was impressed with the students.

"I am really pleased with the Inti students and with their success.

"They worked hard and will no doubt benefit from their effort here at Coventry," he said.
