INTI College students recently created a new national record in the true Malaysia Boleh spirit.

The team of 12 students, who called themselves Malaysia Can, managed to build an aluminium can pyramid in just over 30 minutes.

The feat, which was later recorded by the Malaysia Book of Records, was carried out at the Mid Valley Megamall last Saturday.

Turning up in droves were students who filled the concourse of the shopping mall to give moral support to their team.

The event was launched by Deputy Minister of Youth and Sports, Datuk Ong Tee Keat.

This 'can pyramid' project is not without precedent. It had been attempted in Singapore and Japan a few years ago.

In their effort, which was supported by 100 Plus, they managed to stack up cans to 3.5m high.

One, two, three ... the team piling the cans (top) and then jubilantly cheering after they completed the pyramid (left).
