

COLLEGE

INTI COLLEGE

NIFTY MOVES ...
Inti college students show off some fancy footwork.

International students put up a good show

The English Improvement Programme (EIP) students of Inti College Pang Jaya put up one of the best shows yet this semester.

The students who comprise mainly international students from various countries including China, Indonesia, Japan, Yemen and Myanmar, performed songs, dramas and sketches on the theme Building Global Friendships Through English.

The first performance was A Mid-

Silly Night's Dream, an adaptation of the Shakespeare comedy A Midsummer Night's Dream. The play was Malaysianised and infused with a blend of Malay, Chinese and Indian references and setting.

For example, all the female characters wore sarees and the villages had names like Kampung Kepala Pusing and Kampung Kepala Angin.

Other highlights included a fashion show featuring traditional and modern dress as well as vocal and dance performances.

Acting programme co-ordinator, Gurmit Kaur said the EIP day was a good avenue for students to express themselves creatively.

She added that some of the overseas students had free time on their hands out of school hours and welcomed the chance to meet up with their friends over the weekends to rehearse for the show.