

COMQUIZ 2003

NATIONAL COMPUTER QUIZ • SCHOOL LEVEL

Today's e-Winners, Tomorrow's

Main Prize Sponsors

NTI

Microsoft acer

The Star's promotion co-ordination manager Ng Kok Wah showing Chow (centre) and her assistant Lim Joo Pin the promotional poster for the ComQuiz 2003 at Menara Star recently.

Brunstfield to give away RM15,000 worth of prizes

BRUNSFIELD Information and Communications Technology, a subsidiary of the Brunstfield Group of Companies, have stepped forward to support this year's ComQuiz 2003, The Star's annual IT quiz competition.

The Brunstfield Group of Companies, which will join Inti College, Microsoft, Acer and Eastpak as main prize sponsors, will be offering about RM15,000 worth of trophies, plaques, digital cameras, MD player, CD player and a digital radio clock.

Brunstfield corporate communications manager Jennifer Chow Ching Yun said this was the first time that the company was sponsoring the quiz.

"We have decided to do this to raise the importance of IT which is in line with our business activity," she said during a presentation ceremony at Menara Star in Petaling Jaya recently.

Chow said Brunstfield had been involved with The Star's learning skills IT project and looked forward to teaming up for other projects with the paper.

This year's winning team will walk away with a plaque, prizes and a RM5,000 Inti College Merit scholarship for each of its member. Their school will receive a challenge trophy, personal computer, printer and a scanner.

The first runners-up will receive a plaque, prizes and RM2,000 scholarship each, while their school will win a personal computer, printer and scanner.

Second runners-up walk away with similar prizes, except that they will receive a RM1,000 scholarship each. There will also be a host of consolation prizes.

ComQuiz 2003, which is open to Forms Three to Five students in Malaysian schools, will consist of two rounds. The preliminary will kick off on June 28 with the finals on Aug 16.

The deadline for submitting entry forms, available in The Star and from The Star Online, is April 30. For more information, contact The Star's Marketing Services Department at 03-79671238/432.