R.AGE makes comeback in full force

KUALA LUMPUR: Fresh from a break since last December, The Star's youth pullout R.AGE is back.

To mark the comeback, R.AGE roadshows were staged yesterday in Penang, Malacca and Negri Sembilan for the first time, besides the Klang Valley.

In Penang, more than 1,000 students from a university and four private colleges turned up at their college grounds to welcome the visiting Red 104.9 Sorento crew comprising Alvin, Edmond, Hisham and Johnston.

At the first stop, the Red Sorento crew mingled with Inti International College students before moving on to Universiti Sains Malaysia, Disted Stamford College, KDU College and the Equator Academy of Arts.

Besides copies of R.AGE and The Star, other freebies dished out to the students were R.AGE merchandise such as T-shirts and caps, Galaxie subscriptions and GSC movie passes.

But what excited the students the most was the iPod Shuffle contest featured in the pullout.

Muhammad Taufiq Zamri, 21, said the pullout suits young people really well.

"The features and columns as well as the layout are interesting," said the Business Studies student at Disted Stamford College.

A total of 2,500 copies were distributed at 16 campuses in the northern states yesterday.

In Malacca, 400 copies of the pullout together with The Star were snapped up by Multimedia University students within half-an-hour.

The Red Sorento crew, M. Anooogrehan and Jay You Mee Cheng, got the students to take

For IT student See Kok Wei, it was the first time he heard about R.AGE.

"I will look out for the pullout after this," said the 20-year-old from Johor Baru.

In Seremban, a total of 300 copies of R.AGE were distributed at Inti International College, and another 300 at Nilai International College.

In Selangor, the road show was staged in Asia Cafe in
