

INTI International University is reinventing education to develop leaders with 21st century skills.

Shining bright with five-star recognition

INTI International University has been awarded five stars in SETARA 2013, a Malaysian Qualifications Agency (MQA) ratings system, which measures the quality of teaching and learning in university colleges and universities in Malaysia.

INTI's position in Tier 5 or "Excellent" category is a milestone achievement that demonstrates its mission to champion change by reinventing education to build dynamic leaders for the future.

"This achievement reflects INTI's efforts in fostering positive graduate outcomes.

"Emphasis is placed on the development of 21st century skills encompassing the 4Cs – Critical-thinking, Communication, Collaboration and Creativity among students to prepare them for the future global workforce," said INTI International University vice-chancellor Prof Datuk Dr Rahmah Mohamed.

INTI International University offers internationally recognised and career-focused programmes in collaboration with leading industry and academic partners to meet the needs of today's employers and graduates.

A 331ha campus university in Putra Nilai, Negri Sembilan with international students and faculty members from more than 60 countries, it promotes not only intellectual growth through quality education, but also the opportunity for students to build lifelong friendships through various social, sporting and
